

Jeune Leader Transformationnel Commitment

Narrative: Advocate to mobilize funds to increase access to FP/YRH information, products, and services for adolescents and youth among economic, political, and religious decision makers. This should reach as many adolescents and youth as possible. Improving access and use of ASRH services depends on the systems put in place in the PPS and also on the environment in which adolescents and youth are. So it would be very interesting to create the demand, to share good information to adolescents and youth in order to change behaviors to remove socio-cultural barriers, to change also the perception of parents of services to bring them to understand the importance of guiding their children to services, finally to protect their health.

Thus, we can strengthen the political, legal and institutional environment in favor of AYSRH.

Outcomes:

Availability of free FP/RHSS commodities and services in all health centers and youth-friendly listening centers. For the availability of youth-friendly products and services, we can advocate to decision makers, key people, and resources to facilitate the availability of youth-friendly products and services. And if I talk about adapting to young people it is to see according to their needs.

For example, let's take the case of condoms. Very often when discussing with young people, many are ready to use the condom as protection because it has the double function (protects and STIs and unwanted pregnancies). For this reason, we can work to make this product available.
