FINANCIAL COMMITMENTS

May 19, 2016 - Copenhagen, Denmark - Germany commits at least 514 million Euros until 2019 to rights-based family planning and reproductive health. 25% of its bilateral funding is likely to be dedicated directly to family planning, depending on partner countries' priorities.

Germany's FP2020 commitment is in line with its Rights-based Family Planning and Maternal Health Initiative which includes the aim to provide information and access to modern forms of family planning to 9 million couples. The amount also includes Germany's RMNCAH-relevant contributions to the Global Fund to fight AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria and its financial support to the United Nations Population Fund and the International Planned Parenthood Federation.

July 11, 2012 - London - Germany commits €400 million (US $491.6 million) to reproductive health and family planning across four years (2016), of which 25% (€100 million or US $122.29 million) is likely to be dedicated directly to family planning, depending on partner countries' priorities.
